

Scientific Misconduct Statement

We the authors of the manuscript entitled _____

Exclusively submitted to Pakistan Journal of Medical Sciences confirm that it is our original work. We have taken permission to use the data from the institution where the study was performed and there is nothing which can be termed as scientific misconduct. We further confirm that there will be no change in authorship and only those listed as authors at the time of submission and those who have signed on the Letter of Undertaking are the authors of this study.

Please note that if at any stage, a retraction of the above study is requested and it has to be retracted for any reason including scientific misconduct, the authors will have to pay a penalty of Five hundred US dollars. Once this payment is received, only then the retraction process will start.

Since we have observed quite a few cases of scientific misconduct by the authors from China and once it is detected, they request for retraction which adversely affects the credibility of the journal. Hence this step has been taken to ensure that all authors submitting their manuscripts from China will also submit this Statement of Scientific Misconduct at the time of making the submission on journal website.
